

Treehouse Names Judy Marczewski President of Board

SEATTLE, WA., October 27, 2008 – At One Eighty, our employees and approach to business is different. With over three decades of delivering a variety of hospitality services, the company seeks out creative thinkers who follow a Three-Thirds lifestyle – 1/3 family, 1/3 philanthropy and 1/3 work. Judy Marczewski, Chief Financial Officer at One Eighty, is a great example of how the company strives to positively impact the lives of employees, customers, business associates and their communities everyday.

Since 2000, Judy has been actively involved in Treehouse, an agency that is committed to improving the lives of foster children. Recently, Judy was appointed President of the Board at Treehouse. “Over the past five years, Treehouse has worked hard to position ourselves for continued growth to help more children in need,” Marczewski said. “With the current economy, foster kids and service organizations are needed more than ever,” she said. “I’m excited to continue my involvement with Treehouse in this new position.”

In its 20 years, Treehouse has served over 4,300 foster kids in our community with six primary programs:

- The Wearhouse is a free store where kids shop for clothing they need in styles they want, along with school supplies, toys, books and other essentials.
- Little Wishes pays for activities and experiences that every child deserves – things as small as hair care and as big as drivers education.
- Summer Camp sends kids on adventures that create memories for a lifetime.
- Tutoring helps bridge the educational achievement gap between foster kids and their classmates from more stable homes.
- Educational Advocacy works statewide to protect students' educational rights and remove barriers to school success.
- Coaching-to-College gives kids support as they follow their dreams for the future.

This holiday season, One Eighty employees and residents in the company's six Puget-Sound retirement communities are teaming up for a Pajama Drive. The goal will be to ensure that every foster kid has their very own pair of pajamas during the winter months. From now until November 12th, you can drop off new (with tags on) or gently used pajamas to one of several "Pajama Posts" throughout the area. For a complete list of "Pajama Post" locations, please visit our website: www.leisurecare.com/pajamaparty

On Thursday, November 13th, One Eighty will host our annual Pajama Party at Treehouse. All donations we have received will be delivered to the Treehouse Warehouse between the hours of 2:30 and 7:00 pm. Additional donations are welcome during this time and all are encouraged to stop by Treehouse to help us celebrate this exciting event.

“Here at One Eighty, our Philanthropy Committee works with employees to help them find their passion and use their free volunteer day to serve others,” Marczewski said. “Over the years, the enthusiasm for Treehouse has really grown and become one of our most popular not-for-profit agencies. This year’s Pajama Party event will be a great success because of their involvement,” she said.
